- Two days training & workshop for performing the assessment and operating the tools is included*

You should be aware, that CMM Quest v1.3 Corporate Edition is capable of creating a whole process and quality management system. From our experience, the difficulties for introducing structured approaches are not part of the production of procedures. The difficulties are contained in the order and manner how you transport the relevant information to your colleagues.

And especially this is the core strength of the appraisal methodology: Here not only processes are assessed. Here your colleagues are informed, trained, motivated and becoming nosily about processes.

Just imagine this antagonism: Should employees receive new process descriptions per Monday morning mail (big surprise - as if we had time for that). - Or should they explore the world of processes in small groups - together and with the help of an appraisal?

Here the tool is capable of doing unbelievable things: Instead of resisting against everything, the employees will become your ally. We can not imagine, how much time and money is wasted every day just to eliminate the resistance of employees (or for ignoring it due to a sophisticated reporting system). Experiences showed: Only a honest, open attitude of all stakeholders and a free, pleasant atmosphere really lead to the development of software processes which gain both: employee satisfaction and targeting on business goals. CMM Quest v1.3 Corporate Edition is the communication tool which lays the foundation for your process amangement.
